A message from WSHNA President, Troy King.

Hello Fellow Negotiators,

As we begin ramping up preparations for the Seminar and Competition in May, I would like to encourage you to get your WSHNA registrations in soon, especially if you have reserved a room at the Semiahmoo Resort. In the coming weeks we will be looking at the names of those registered to stay at the resort and whether they are registered to attend WSHNA. Lodging at the resort currently shows as full, and we cannot afford to have preventable room cancellations that occur a month or less from the event. So, if you have a room and you now know you will not be able to make it, please cancel your room ASAP. If you have a room and you know you will be attending, please register for the Seminar ASAP. We have an outstanding line up of presenters, so fun social events, and the company could not be better.

One last thing, below is a list of additional lodging options off site.

I hope to see you there! Everything is at WSHNA - 2022 Training Seminar Our 36th Annual.

OVERFLOW HOTELS

Due to the unique location of the Semiahmoo Resort & Spa, nearby lodging options will not be as easy as 'across the street.' So, here are some suggestions. We suggest you do your own due diligence and investigate any place you are going to stay. We have checked with the local host committee, and we found no 'red flags' with any of the
